Supplemental/Bid Bulletin No. 2

This Supplemental/Bid Bulletin No. 2 is being issued to clarify certain provisions in the Bidding Documents, as follows:

PROSPECTIVE BIDDERS' CLARIFICATIONS	PMO-BAC RESPONSE
Please provide sample scenarios and resulting scores using the scoring criteria. We understand that the weight of the technical score is 60% and the weight of the financial score is 40%. Why is there a range for T [From 0.6 to 0.85] and F [From 0.15 to 0.4] in p. 66?	ITB Clause 26.2 of the bidding documents explains the procedure of the Quality Cost Based Evaluation. Procuring agency can decide on what weight to be given to the technical and financial proposal. The lowest weight for Technical Proposal (T) is 60% and the highest weight is 85%. And for the Financial Proposal (F), if the Technical Proposal is 60% the Financial Proposal would be 40%. Provided that the formula $T + F = 1$ or 100%. For this procurement, the PMO decided to use: Technical Proposal - 60% Financial Proposal - 40% Please refer to ITB Clause 1.1 For the sample scenarios, using the formula $S = St \times T\% + Sf \times F\%$, the Bids shall then be ranked according to their combined St and Sf using the weights (St is the technical score of the Technical Proposal under consideration; T = the weight given to the Technical Proposal; F = the weight given to the Financial Proposal.
